Description

Background Following the family tradition, Oliver took up a career in smuggling. When Mars was opened to British trade, he took the opportunity to open a new market. After a few years smuggling lift wood and Bhutan spices he decided to raise his social status by becoming a legitimate merchant (at least in appearances). His membership in the Syrtis Major Gentlemen's and Explorers club (SMEG) helps give him the appearance of status. He was turned down for membership in the more prestigious Explorers Club.
