Players:

Scot: Ty, Cyborg Soldier
Danielle: Tobi, G-Mod Con Artist
Erick: Sebastian 387G55, Bioroid
Kris: GM

Location: Miguel Hidalgo Arcology, New Angeles

Time: 26 August 2180, mid-morning

PCs met at José's burrito cart for breakfast, again, and decided to investigate what's going on with the Salamandres gang.

Location: Mercado, Richard Milhouse Nixon Arcology

Time: 28 August 2180, afternoon.

NOTE: Salamandres gang territory!

RMN Arcology has a stock stone construct and appears more fort-like. It is blockier and feels more oppressive; quieter & sedate.

Salamandres Gang

The Salamandres typically wear dark-green synth-leather jackets.
Their leader is a middle-aged man with graying hair.

#1 "frituur", Mercado, RMN Arcology

Hole in a stone wall with a hinged awning door to close up. Store's single sign is a white "1" in a painted red circle.

Owner: Karl Dons—
Caucasian, dumpy build, balding. Mostly grunts single syllable answers unless PCs can make a Charm check. Has pre-teen children that took selfies in front of his shop.

Sake Bar, Mercado, RMN Arcology

Fold out awning cover.
Serves noodles and sake.
Stools in front of glass
food cases, like a sushi bar.

Japanese owner: speaks Japanese and
pidgin English; “No
bioroids! Customers
only!”; about 50 years-old,
but a hard life has taken its toll.

Ty Wren comes off as sounding like an undercover cop and gets the PCs ejected.

Fateful Encounter

The PCs follow a patrol of 3 Salamandres muscle.

Upon turning back towards the main corridor of the mall-like mercado in the base of RMN Arcology, the Salamandres encounter “Keisei Sakura” (aka Madame Gaulroy), her bodyguards, and the leader of the Salamandres gang. Keisei Sakura (her Yakuza name) is dressed in a shiny black kimono and carrying her teacup giraffe in a handbag. Keisei spots Tobi just as Tobi spots her. Keisei orders her bodyguards to attack! The Salamandres assist.

Ty Wren opens up with a submachine gun. He is heavily injured and his cybernetic arm is disabled by a lucky fletcher round.

The PCs manage to escape.

As the PCs escape, Keisei Sakura’s teacup giraffe bleats in pain as Keisei frustratedly squeezes it too tight.

Miguel Hidalgo Arcology

Tobi informs Tinnothy about who the Yakuza in RMN Arcology were. Tinnothy is concerned about the Yakuza and Salamandres collaborating.

The PCs return to Ty’s apartment for healing and repairs. Sebastian buys a tool kit but is unable to repair Ty’s cybernetic arm.

The human PCs sleep while Sebastian keeps watched at the door.

During the night, Sebastian sees someone enter Ty’s apartment by “phasing” through the wall. The person tries three times to speak and then vanishes! Sebastian remembers the visitor but can produce no video evidence of the incident.¹

¹ Bioroid memories have been found to be susceptible to hacking and are therefore inadmissible in court as evidence.
