Yavin-4, Jedi Academy

Aagh's Jedi Master is Tel-Valla ("Champion of the Law"), a Twi-lek who is about 30 years old. He is based on a 7th level Jedi Weapons Master.
Aagh's goal is to become a Jedi Weapons Master.
I have access to Jedi Master Kyndi.
Tel-Valla senses the approach of a visitor connected with a disturbance in The Force.
A primitive looking humanoid looking like a crotchety old man comes to the Temple. He's not Force trained. Yani^M is a member of the Wedota who live in the jungle.
Their Wedota champion was lost—Wedota never get lost! Animals are being slaughtered but not being eaten, not even by scavengers. This disturbed the Wedota shaman, who sent the champion to investigate.
Dead animals were found with no bodily fluids and broken necks.
The problem temple gives the Wedota a cold feeling. It's 3 hours away.
I borrow a Medpack.
Jedi Healers see imprints of Dark Side on dead animals.

Found a killed nonindigenous animal and its living child.
Honor guard and shaman (called "This Man" by Wedota) arrive to give me unction (blessing) made from 2 eggs, 4 herbs; mixed and applied to cheek and crown of head. Shaman's bodyguard offers me a Wedota ceremonial weapon: a wooden short sword with 3 holes of different sizes in blade. It was originally used for planting seeds that would fit in the holes.
The Sith Temple has bas-relief of Golden Age of Sith and enslavement of this world. Sith appear as a wind causing people to fight each other, leading to their enslavement.
Into the Sith Temple: The first room has perforated and air is puffing through the holes. Next room has an acid pool inhabited by 70 cm long eels. I found a statue of a monster with huge nose and eyes. The statue blows a path through the acid. I found the controls to operate it. Up a ladder, I find a dark chamber. The Dark Side is strong here. A giant air pump is here. I find the Wedota champion who is now Wraithbound. I am forced to fight and destroy it. Then I destroy the winding pushing machine that forces the Dark Side winds out of the temple.
The Shaman regrets the loss of the champion but understands. The Wedota honor guard has mixed feelings about seeing me. Wedota name Aagh "A Licka," which means "Wind Stopper."

Yavin-4

Master Tion: received a black rimmed, red cored tetrahedron that was taken from a Sith temple. It's not a Sith holocron
The Wedota want me (A'Licka) to explore another Sith temple.
Wedota: bipedal with slight feathering, 6 limbs, beaked, purple or green in color.
Massai Temple: found a small blue cubic gem.
Sewage treatment plant. Cube looks like it fits into a control panel and it turns on computer controls. I turned on a sewage treatment turbine.
Sith humanoid, preserved (2,000 years old). I have his red bladed lightsaber.
Solving the purple shows a star map to a world.
Planet Illium: Jedi lore says this was a lightsaber crystal storage place. It was controlled by Jedi and Sith at various times. This is a star map with its location! It has location of depot prior to terraforming.

Yavin-4 Jedi Academy

Luke Skywalker has returned to the Jedi Academy. He calls an assembly to address issue of Yuuzhan Vong and wants to meet with us afterwards.
Skywalker, Solo twins and Kyp Duran (a famous Mon Calamari Jedi).
The Solo twins: Anakin and?
Exarch Kum is a Sith at a Massai temple.
Skywalker says Illium and disappeared. Its neighboring planets are now uninhabitable and its star became a brown dwarf. Its star was a red dwarf before this.

Zonama Sekot was a sentient planet. Its inhabitants built sentient starships. This planet disappeared too. It might have moved itself into Unknown Regions. Ship Chunthor is a mobile Jedi academy that crashed on Dathomir. Sith Witches and rancors control Dathomir. There are records of lightsaber crystal mining there. Luke Skywalker booked us passage to Dathomir on Alinn Graff's ship. Off we go to Dathomir...

Dathomir

We have coordinates of the Chunthor from Skywalker. The Sith Witches are reputedly short tempered and matriarchal. They ride domesticated rancors. The Witches specialize in Control and Alter Force feats (they neglect Sense). Promotion in the Sith Witches is by assassination. Lightsabers are rare to the Sith Witches. There are 60-80 nomadic Sith Witches on Dathomir. We don't know if anyone else lives on Dathomir. It's a mudball.

We jump...

The Chunthor looks like a hill.

Anson is a lightsaber crystal mining area. We have data and a log from there!

Near Kasshyk the Chunthor ran into Vader's inquisitor Treymain.

The Chunthor's main vault holds a Jedi holocron; 3 lightsabers—an orange (good at cutting), a purple and a green-blue lightsaber—that date back 3,000 years; a Force imbued amulet of healing.

The Jedi holocron contains information of: Jardle (who is Yoda-like), Anice (a master), another Jedi possible called Spoddick.

Illum is frozen 9 months of its year, 4 months of Spring-like weather. It's in the Meridian sector.

Zonoma Sekot says this is restricted information. ?

Anson

Anson is a water world. The sentient life forms, the Lotham, live underwater. Alan Graff will be back in 3 days. The Lotham have gills around their torsos. They are orange, red or purple in color.

Our host is the Honorary Finius Catmuss, a PR guy.

The historical records show that the Chunthor left some people behind to guard a storehouse near the inner core of the planet. Fifteen years after the Chunthor was here, they stopped sending envoys.

We go into the storehouse/mining facility. It is inhabited by about a half dozen people. They speak a degenerate form of Basic.

Aagh meditates and has a vision: Anson has a panacea drug, but if we harvest it the planet will die. Note that the vision could be coming from the telepathic creatures outside.

Chunno^M and Anise^F are from the Chunthor. Chunno was an instructor on the Chunthor.

We can go into the caverns and mine crystals...next time.

21 March 2006

The creature in the mines is called a Radark.

Gratl the Hutt feeds Ewoks to a carnivorous Manta. He works for NRI.
Feela'Incarna is an NRI agent and a good dancer.
News: The Yuuzhan Vong destroy Ithor. A Yuuzhan Vong Warmaster kills Koren Horn.
Ralph, a petty thug: Tragera the Hutt put a price on his head for losing a box of Dethsticks. We rescued the Dethsticks and gave them to Ralph—he owes us.
A Shi'ido had some lightsaber crystals. He's on the third floor of the city. His shop has a barber shop sign on the outside door. Aagh purchased an orange lightsaber crystal from him!

R3D8 has Repair Shields +13.
Droskai and Kyp are KIA from Kyp's own thermal detonator and secondary explosions.
Aagh went to look for Wedota and convince them to be evacuated from Yavin-4. Aagh landed the X-Wing near the Wedota camp. All of them were saved before Yuuzhan Vong took over Yavin-4!
